Wedding Reception Flow Activities

(Remember, you do not have to do things in order of this flow or the ways they have always have been done. It is your day and your memories, Plan as you wish).

Soft background music is played while guests arrive. No announcements will be made during this time unless instructed.

If you would like to be announced upon arrival, the DJ will do so at this time. If you wish for the wedding party to be introduced, they will also be announced first and the bride and groom last. This includes parents and grandparents as well if you wish. If you choose this, please remember to provide the wedding party name list (with phonetic spelling) and the order in which they will be announced; or this can be done later in the evening, etc. Please put N/A if not applicable
